Puppet Government
Invokes Martial
Law in Country

By CHARLES W. RIDLEY
United Press Staff Correspondent
VIENNA (AP)—Some 10,000 armed Hungarian freedom fighters were reported locked in a pitched battle with Soviet troops in the hills north of Budapest today.

Reports reaching Vienna said the freedom fighters involved belonged to the "Corvin" legion which has been hiding out in the Gelert and Buda hills since the last uprising. They were believed to be under the command of Maj. Gen. Bela Karolyi, one of ousted Premier Imre Nagy's top military aides.

The reports indicated the 10,000 strong guerrilla legion attacked Russian tanks and infantry dug in among the hills after the government of Soviet-sponsored Premier Janos Kadar announced martial law Sunday.

There were reports some Russian troops who went into Hungary believing they would fight Anglo-American "Fascists" were sickening of the bloodshed after realizing the brutality of their true mission.

The Moscow-imposed Kadar regime finally stripped away the pretenses of democracy Sunday. It clamped martial law on dying Hungary, and outlawed all regional workers councils. Workers proclaimed a new general strike.

All communications with the West were severed by the puppet Communist government in an attempt to prevent a new armed uprising.

Call General Strike

The last time Hungary was cut off from the West was Nov. 4 when Soviet armored forces struck by surprise to crush the freedom revolt and install the Kadar regime.

The government crackdown followed a call by the Budapest Workers Council for a 48-hour general strike in all but the most essential industries to begin at midnight Sunday night. The strike was called to protest the mass arrests of labor leaders.

Eisenhower Calls for Prayers for Victims of Soviet Brutality in Hungary

By United Press
Thousands of Americans from coast to coast paused in prayerful meditation today for the victims of what President Eisenhower called the "brutality in Hungary."

The President made the statement in urging Americans everywhere today to observe United Nations Human Rights Day by lifting their hearts and their prayers to the oppressed people of Hungary.

The peal of church bells at noon sounded the call to prayer in many cities. Flags were flown at half mast in some cities as a day long reminder of the sacrifices made by freedom loving Hungarians.

"On this Human Rights Day," the President said in his statement, "it is for each one of us to recognize anew that we are brothers in our Father's house, and each is truly his brother's keeper."

Mr. Eisenhower's statement, his most sympathetic to date on behalf of the Hungarians, also said the Soviet terror in Hungary "repudiates and negates" virtually every article in the U. N. declaration of human rights.

"That these human rights have been so flagrantly repudiated is cause for worldwide mourning," he said.

He was a retired miner last working at Peabody 47, and for the past three years he had made his home with two daughters, Miss Mary Basco of Gary, Ind., and Mrs. Joe Gall Jr. of Highland, Ind.

Besides Miss Basco and Mrs. Gall he leaves another daughter, Mrs. Bert (Anna) Kovarik, Benton, eight grandchildren and one great grandchild, and three stepchildren: Steve Saffranka, St. Louis, Mo.; Mrs. Mary Armosky, Chicago, and Mrs. Joe Hayden of St. Louis.

The body arrived this morning at the Harrisburg funeral home where it will lie in state and where the funeral will be held Tuesday at 2 p. m. Rev. William Burroughs will officiate and burial will be in Sunset Lawn cemetery.

Murder Trial Set Today at Elizabethtown

Mother, Daughter Tried in Death of
Betty Jean Joiner

ELIZABETHTOWN, Ill. (AP)—A mother and her daughter went on trial here today for murder in the death of a 19-year-old Hartford, Conn., girl.

Mrs. June Davis and her 18-year-old daughter, Betty Ann, of Cave-in-Rock, Ill., are the defendants. They were indicted on July 1, 1955, in the slaying of Betty Jean Joiner, a former Cave-in-Rock resident. Miss Joiner met death on a highway on the last evening of a visit to her former home.

Glen Elwood McDowell, who was engaged to Miss Davis, was taking Miss Joiner home the night of her death. Mrs. Davis and her daughter followed his car and flagged it down.

Miss Davis said she pulled Miss Joiner from the car to get to McDowell to kick him and pull his hair. She admitted under cross-examination that she might have slapped Miss Joiner once or twice after pulling her from the car.

The indictment against Mrs. Davis and her daughter charges that they mortally wounded Miss Joiner by striking her with a hard, blunt instrument or "did push, pull or thrust" her against an automobile.

Miss Joiner ran from the scene and collapsed on the highway. Minutes later, she was run over by an auto driven by Bernie Herrmann of Rosiclare.

Start of the trial has been delayed by two challenges of the jury list and by a motion to quash the indictment.

Mrs. Davis and her daughter have been free on bonds of $20,000.

Ike Begins Budget Draft

To Return to
Capitol Thursday,
Will Meet Nehru

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower today completed his financial work on the 1958 budget and began the laborious task of drafting a budget message for the new Congress.

Budget Director Percival Brundage, who conferred with the President here over the week end, said as he flew back to Washington, "We have finished the totals."

What Brundage meant was that the President and his chief administration advisers have settled on a total for the budget in the upcoming fiscal year.

"We now have all the totals—the big figures," Brundage told a reporter. "Now we must bring them together and start work on the message itself."

Brundage declined to guess—for publication—at the size of the new budget, saying, "after all this work, we'll just have to wait for the printed version."

Mr. Eisenhower, who has been here since Nov. 26, planned to return to Washington next Thursday afternoon. After a briefing by State Department officials, he will receive Indian Prime Minister Nehru next Sunday afternoon.

Ice Storm Hits St. Louis; Heat, Lights Cut Off to Many Homes

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The St. Louis area looked to a forecast of above freezing temperatures today to bring relief from what was described as the worst ice storm in years.

Thousands of homes still were without electric service as ice and falling tree limbs knocked out wires almost as fast as Union Electric Co. could repair them.

As many as 70,000 homes were without power at one time. This meant no lights and in many cases the failure of gas, oil and stoker furnaces.

The temperature has not risen above freezing since last Friday morning, but the Weather Bureau predicted the mercury would climb into the upper 30s today.

At Alton, Ill., 54-year-old Frank Bennett of 1127 Highland Av. was electrocuted when he picked up a live wire while wearing rubber gloves. There was a tiny hole in the right forefinger of one glove.

Numerous minor traffic accidents and fires resulted from the storm Saturday and Sunday night. Comparatively few motorists ventured out Sunday, and accidents were few.

Roads, streets and highways still are hazardous. The city estimated it would take two weeks to clear the debris of fallen trees and limbs.

VANCOUVER, B. C. (AP)—Seventeen aircraft were pressed into a desperate search today for a Trans-Canada Airlines North Star as fears mounted that it may have plunged to its doom in one of the worst disasters in Canadian aviation history.

Sixty-two persons, including 59 passengers and a 3-member crew, were aboard the four-engined Montreal-bound plane, which was presumed to have crashed sometime Sunday night in the snow-choked Fraser Valley east of Vancouver. A TCA spokesman said that if all 62 died it would be the greatest toll of any air crash in Canada's history.

Gridders Aboard
Several Americans were known to be aboard.

Names from the passenger list were trickling out of TCA offices in Montreal, headquarters of the airline. Among them were those of Mrs. A. A. Kafouri, Portland, Ore., J. E. Henderson, Issaquah, Wash., and two American football players Mario DeMarco and Mel Becket.

Another American passenger aboard the aircraft was Mrs. L. C. Burt, San Francisco.

Gordie Sturtridge and Ray Syrnnyk, two other football players, were also listed. All four were members of the Saskatchewan Roughriders of Canada's Western Conference.

Played in Shrine Classic
Becket and Sturtridge played in the annual East-West Shrine all-star professional game here Saturday.

Royal Canadian Air Force search and rescue personnel were working "round-the-clock" investigating a number of reports about the plane, including one that said lights had been seen on a mountain about 50 miles southeast of Vancouver near the possible crash scene. They held little hope, however, that the reports had any basis in fact.

RCAF air-sea rescue headquarters said the plane would have run out of fuel by 1 a. m. PST. Last radio contact was made with the plane over Hope, B. C., about 100 miles east of here.

The pilot, Capt. Allan Jack Clarke, 35, of Winnipeg and Montreal, had reported the loss of one engine over Princeton B. C., and was limping back to Vancouver. Over Hope, he asked for permission to descend from 14,000 to 8,000 feet because ice was forming on the wings.

Given permission, Clarke estimated his arrival time at Vancouver at 7:38 p. m. PST Sunday night. Minutes later, radar and radio contact with the plane were lost.

On the Nation's Roads, Back the Attack Against—

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
Ike Plans Huge Spending
Program For Near And Far
East; He Will Try To Patch
Up Relations With Our Western Allies; Dulles Will Take Back Seat Re Foreign Aid.

WASHINGTON. — Vastly important plans for the President's incoming "State of the Union" and inaugural addresses are now being formed in Augusta and Washington.

They indicate a break with the past, particularly a break with the isolationist wing of the Republican party, as drastic as anything that has happened in Eisenhower's four years in office.

The President plans a huge global program to recapture American prestige and power in the Near East, the Far East, and Europe.
It will take the form of a spending program more expansive than anything the Eisenhower administration has ever dreamed of, greater probably than the original Marshall Plan under Truman. It will also include guarantees to Near Eastern states against attack.

The plan is to fill the economic vacuum in the Near East and Asia caused by the adjustments of outmoded colonialism. This will mean a lot of money. It will be spent on irrigation and various improvements to raise the living standards of Asiatic-African peoples.

At the same time, the President plans to revive tarnished ties with our old allies, France and Britain. He plans to put this whole program under Governor Christian Herter of Massachusetts who is being brought into the State Department in January. John Foster Dulles will be given little or no chance to meddle with it.

President has already brought General Bobby Cutler, former secretary of the National Security Council, back from Boston to the White House. He had originally tried to draft his former chief of staff, General W. "Beetle" Smith, who served as head of Central Intelligence and undersecretary of state for Truman. Cutler is now holding meetings in the state department, preparing the big new foreign affairs offensive.

Also helping is Vice-President Nixon. As a former isolationist, his job is to win over the isolationist wing of the Republican party.

White House advisers are not unaware of the fact that a huge spending program will be viewed as Henry Wallace "globaloney." They recall the derisive speech of Mrs. Clare Boothe Luce, in which she excoriated Roosevelt-Wallace-Truman foreign aid and coined the phrase "globaloney." They also recall the derisive
"milk for every Hottentot" criticism that was hurled at Wallace.

However, they believe that the Democrats will have to go along with the President's spending program and that Nixon will be able to swing the right-wingers. Nixon himself has seen what is happening to the right-wing Republicans, first with the gradual demise of Joe McCarthy, second with the defeat of Senator Welker of Idaho.
He has indicated to friends that he sees the handwriting on the wall.

IKE'S CRUCIAL FOUR YEARS

What brought President Eisenhower around to his present thinking, according to his friends, are two things:

1. Dulles' illness, during which Ike realized for the first time the badly deteriorated state of our foreign policy.

2. The last days of the campaign, when the President listened to the speeches of Adlai Stevenson. The criticism got under his skin.

He realizes, partly as a result of that criticism, partly as a result of two near escapes with death, that his place in history will be decided in the next four years and that he has a lot to do those years.

He got one of the worst shocks of his term as President when Dulles became ill and for the first time he took over the active administration of foreign policy. Not until then had he realized how many foreign problems had been swept under the rug just to get them out of the way.

He then began to realize that while we had undermined the British and French in the Near and Middle East, we had simultaneously failed to do anything about filling the vacuum left by them as they were undermined.
Thus the Russians had moved into the vacuum as the French and British moved out.

The President, according to friends, also began to smart when newspapers which had steadfastly supported him in the past, such as the New York Times and New York Herald Tribune, began knocking him for deserting the French and British. By the time he got to Augusta, he began to realize that he had knocked the spots out of the two nations he had long been closely identified with, the French and British, and found himself lined up with the Russians and their stooge, Colonel Nasser.

IKE'S AGONIZING REAPPRAISAL

Accordingly, the President has been experiencing his own "agonizing reappraisal."

This reappraisal has not been without differences of opinion and further mistakes.

During the days just prior to his Augusta trip, Eisenhower refused to see the British foreign minister, Selwyn Lloyd, and the Australian external minister, Richard Casey, both staunch friends of the United States.

Simultaneously, he gave luncheons for, or received the prime minister of Greece, the prime minister of Luxembourg, and the prime minister of Tunisia. Technical reason for snubbing the foreign ministers of such important countries as England and Australia was that they were mere foreign ministers. However, the White House also discouraged a visit with Prime Minister Eden, who wanted to stop en route from Jamaica.

One conversation which had impact on the President was with Douglas Dillon, U. S. ambassador to France, who was so disturbed at worsening American-French friendship that he flew to Augusta. He feared the state department would not transmit his cablegrams to Eisenhower warning that never in history had the French been so bitter against the United States for holding up the sale of oil. This was a Dulles policy with which Eisenhower had concurred.

Summerfield Mixes Politics And Post Office.

WHOSE OX WAS GORED

Postmaster General Summer-
field has an interesting way of policing the use of senators' free mailing privileges. If you are a senator running against his friends, he'll crack down on you.
If you win, however, he drops the crack-down.

To illustrate: The postmaster general started out to collect $7, 600 from Sen. Alexander Wiley for using his free mailing frank for political purposes prior to his re-election campaign.

At that time, Wiley was being opposed by Summerfield's old guard friends in Wisconsin, headed by Tom Coleman. So the postmaster general started cracking down on Wiley.

Came September and Wiley
won. He beat Tom Coleman's candidate in the GOP primary.
Summerfield then dropped his efforts to collect the $7,600, and Senator Wiley blithely continued mailing out political propaganda at the taxpayers' expense. This time, however, he was mailing against a Democrat, not against a Tom Coleman Republican.
Summerfield didn't care.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.
Written for NEA Service

We all live 24 hours a day but people use their days so differently that accomplishment varies with use of time as well as with abilities.
Some folk spend 40 hours a week making a living and spend the balance of their time eating and sleeping.

Hobbies take a portion of the time of some people. Household chores require the attention of many. Recreation claims some of our time. Home study, avocations, child development and other interests fill in our days.

Some folks, however, spend most of their time in lethargy. They gossip; they loaf; they gripe; they do not accomplish much of anything.

Too many people do not take time to worship. No day can be complete without fellowship with God.

SHARP IDEA—The lack of snow and native Christmas trees in the warm winter resort of Phoenix, Ariz., doesn't bother Barbara Dennis, left, or Glenn Smith. They're getting into the season's spirit by de-cating a real Southwestern "Chris-mas tree"—a giant saguaro cactus at Casa Blanca, one of the Phoenix resorts.

Picture this one in college!

Seems mighty strange to think of one so little going to college some day. But this is the best time to think about it.

Today it takes $10,000 to $12,000 to finance four years in a good college.
How much will it cost ten or fifteen years from now?

Thousands of parents have started investing in Trust Funds to create a pool of cash to help them to handle that big pay-out when the time comes.
Get the facts today.

Darrow shifted slightly and he threw a sidelong glance at Pace. Odium remained stretched out on his blankets, his eyes glittering with excitement, but his arms remained under his head. It disconcerted Tex and he could not determine whether Pace was neutral or might take a hand either way when the bullets started flying. Juarez realized that Denver had maneuvered to threaten him and the breed no longer could back Tex's play against Bruhn.

Tex's eyes cut back to Jack. He couldn't read the odds and Tex was always a man who liked to see them his way. He licked his lips and Jack knew that the showdown had again been referred. But he did not relax, his hand still taloned.

"It kind of leaves us locking horns, don't it, Jack?" he asked in a tight voice. Jack nodded.

"Maybe we're previous, Jack." He looked at the window where the snow still fell. "We sure ain't going anywhere in this. We can divide the money later."

"Nine ways," Jack said, voice level. Tex flushed with anger for a moment, then it vanished.

"No point in arguing now. By the time the blizzard's over we can tell how Shorty will do."

The storm continued through the rest of the day, but some time deep in the night it passed. When Bruhn opened his eyes the next morning, sunlight streamed its early red rays into the windows. He threw back his blankets and strode to the window, looked out. The noise awakened the others.

They hurried through breakfast. As he ate, Jack waited to catch Pace Odium's eye and he finally succeeded. He made a slight signal and the youngster barely nodded.

Odium calmly lifted his coffee mug. "I need some more of this. Get along to the widow, Tex. I'll be seein' you around."

Darrow's lips pursed and then he shrugged. "See you later, then."

Vause and Denver left within five minutes and there was only Jack and Pace. Jack finished his coffee, leaned forward, elbows resting on his crossed legs.

"What do you think about Shorty?" he asked. Pace shrugged.

"I reckon the doctor knows best."

Jack made an impatient gesture. "I mean about leaving him here if he ain't able to ride with us."

"Why should I have anything to say about it? You're the leader, Jack. You make up your mind and have your say."

Pace had not made his own position clear. Jack's eyes grew bleak.

"I always figured I could depend on you, Pace."

"Why?" the stripling asked almost as if it was a challenge. Jack blinked and held one hand, palm out.

"Why, I let you come into the gang and we've ridden a heap of miles together, you and me."

"We have," Pace agreed. "So have people in a stagecoach, Jack. But they split up when they reach the end of the run. Each has paid his fare so there's nothing owing, any way you take it."

Jack's heavy face fell but he tried to hide it with a quick shrug. "You're saying you don't owe me nothing."

Pace arose and stretched.

"Something like that, Jack. I was no drag to the bunch when I threw in with it, and I've carried my load ever since. We're even."

At the Frazin home, Hal Crane straightened after shoveling a path from the house to the store. Vic and Bob stood breathing hard beside him, leaning on their shovels. Hal thought of his stock and he tentatively kicked at the ice. If this didn't go quick, he'd be in trouble . . . and so would every ranch in the valley.

Not far away, Dan Murdock and Phil Preston bent their backs to the shovels, and the path from the house to the big fence of the lumber yard.

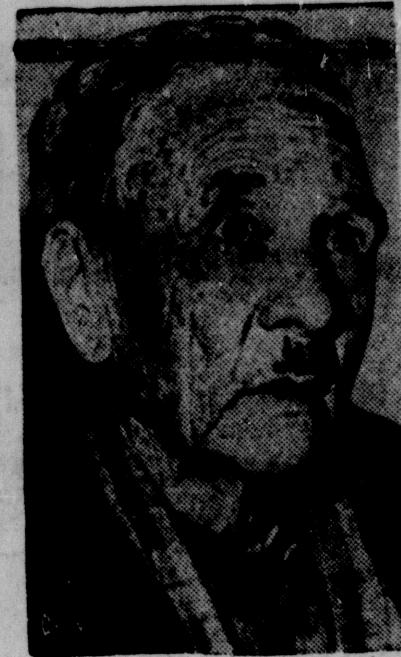

Phil brought them up when they had finally reached the office. "Dan, isn't there something we can do? Every minute those renegades are in town, I feel like I'm living on top of a powder keg with a lit fuse."

Dan sighed. "No guns. They watch us like hawks. If we make a move, they'll be ready for it." Dan looked directly at Phil. "This time they might be mad enough to take it out on the whole town."

Dan followed the path across the street, went into the store. Gene Hiatt had been leaning across the counter and he hastily pulled himself up and turned toward Dan. Ernie took a step back and for the first time Dan saw that the girl was actually flustered. Dan realized he had interrupted an intimate conversation.

"A couple sacks of tobacco," he said mildly. Her head lifted in surprise and her eyes were suddenly warm and deep. She started to say something, instead changed her mind and hurried away to fill his order.

Ernie returned. He knew that

ETCHED BY HORROR — The strain of 25 years' imprisonment in Siberia shows on the face of Sevk Bektoze, 60-year-old Turkish professor, following his release and return to Istanbul. He obtained his freedom by writing three letters to Communist Party Chief Nikita Khrushchev. Bektoze left Turkey in 1917 to teach Turks in the Crimea, but was arrested in Tachkend, Turkistan. He was condemned by the Russians for provoking nationalism because he was teaching Turkish. His comment, after being reunited with his wife and three children: "There is nothing like freedom."

she and Hiatt exchanged glances but still they said nothing.

"Thanks," Dan said, and then started toward the door. Hiatt's voice stopped him.

"Murdock!" Dan turned as Hiatt came up. The young man studied Dan, made a grimace and tugged at his ear.

"Could I talk to you, Murdock?" "Sure," Dan waited. Hiatt glanced around the store.

"Not here. Private."

Santys Already Here, Open Dining Room

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Santy, who owned and operated a cafe in Carrier Mills, have opened a public dining room, 316 East Poplar street, which is opposite the Taste-Freeze. They have converted the entire first floor of this house into a restaurant with the capacity to serve 52 people at one time.

The rooms are decorated in light green and the furnishings natural oak, which make a good restful color combination. Two of the rooms are arranged to be desirable for private parties.

Don't Decorate Address Side of Christmas Cards, Postal Clerks Appeal

WASHINGTON (AP)—Postal clerks appealed to the public today to refrain from decorating the address side of Christmas cards.

The idea seemed to be that it is hard enough for the clerks to read some of the writing they get.

The plea was made by the National Federation of Post Office Clerks (AFL-CIO). It joined the Post Office Department in suggesting: Mail early, write (or print) clearly and wrap firmly.

Sues for Damages as Result of Collision

D. L. Bennett, by his attorneys, Ralph Choisser and Joe Butler, has filed a $2,150 damage suit in Saline County Circuit Court against Beulas Bynum.

Fire Damages Pankey Truck, Contents Burn

A Pankey Bakery delivery truck was badly damaged and its contents destroyed when the truck caught fire early this morning near Eldorado.

The fire apparently started from the truck's heater, it is reported.

The truck was driven off the state road near the Highway Cafe at Eldorado and the Eldorado fire department called to the scene. Nelson Pankey estimated the total loss to be in excess of $1,000.

Lewie Swagt, the driver, was not injured.

Upstarts Vote Millions For School—But No Pool

ELMHURST, Ill. (AP)—Voters in an eastern DuPage County school district have approved a $7,900,000 bond issue to build a new high school, but drew the line at including a swimming pool.

Officials said the bond issue and purchase of land in nearby Villa Park won approval by a two-thirds majority. But proposed swimming pools at the new school and York High school here were rejected by a 4-to-1 majority.

CLINTON, Tenn. (AP)—Negro and white pupils returned to the same classes again today at integrated Clinton High School without a single incident.

The school had been closed since last Tuesday because of fresh racial disturbances, including the beating of a minister who escorted Negro pupils to the school.

All 16 pleaded innocent and Taylor set their trials for the week of Jan. 28.

Hall Sees No Policy Change Because of Herter Appointment

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall does not believe the appointment of Christian A. Herter as undersecretary of state signals any basic change in U. S. foreign policy.

Hall also said Sunday that he wouldn't be surprised if Vice President Richard M. Nixon were given additional responsibilities by President Eisenhower. But he refused to speculate on Nixon's role in the 1960 GOP presidential race.

Two Youths Fatally Beat Actor

CHICAGO (AP)—Malcolm Lee Beggs, 45, a New York actor playing in the touring company of "No Time for Sergeants," was beaten to death today in his apartment by two teen-age companions.

Beggs, who acts the part of the general in the play, was dead when police, summoned by neighbors, broke into his blood-spattered 16th floor apartment at LaSalle Towers Hotel.

Found in the locked room with Beggs were Robert Mitchell, 19, St. Louis, and Haskell Ray Kellem, 18, Evansville, Ind.

Police said the youths told them they met Beggs Sunday night at a street corner in the Loop and went to his room with him. Early this morning, the youths went to the lobby to get some Cokes and decided to rob Beggs, according to authorities.

Beggs put up a fight when they tried to bind and gag him and the youths began beating him in a wild fury, apparently with whisky and beer bottles.

Neighbors heard the scuffle and called police who found Beggs lying on the floor dressed in shorts and bathrobe. The two youths were spattered with blood.

Police took the youths into custody for further questioning.

Bad Weather Takes Toll of At Least 39

Most Die in Traffic Crashes; Illinois Fatalities Low

By United Press

Highways from the Texas Panhandle to New England were glazed with snow and ice today in the wake of week-end storms that caused a rash of traffic wrecks, two of them killing six persons each.

The death toll in accidents blamed on the weather climbed to at least 39, most of them in traffic.

A family of six drowned near Moose, Wyo., when their car skidded off an icy bridge into the Snake River and six girls were killed near Patterson, N. Y., when a car in which they rode rammed into a truck.

Killed when their car crashed through a bridge railing into the ice-covered Snake were Albert Oakley, 40, Casper, Wyo., his wife, Marguerite, 37, and their four children ranging in age from 11 months to 12 years.

At Patterson, five girls were killed instantly and a sixth died en route to a hospital when their car collided with a tractor-trailer on a wet and slippery highway.

Illinois had an unusually low total of four traffic fatalities this past week-end, despite icy roads and dangerous driving conditions.

An 18-year-old Chenoa youth was killed Sunday when his auto was rammed by a train. The victim was identified as Donald Mullen.

Albert Bisig, 61, Chicago, died while driving near his home Sunday. Police said the newspaper

HTHS Latin Club Initiates 20

Twenty new members were recently initiated into the HTHS Latin club. After a snack of sandwiches and potato chips, the initiates were "taken through the underworld." The following day the boys were ordered to wear earrings, a woman's hat, and two different shoes. The girls were ordered to wear a dress three sizes too big for them, a man's hat, and two different shoes. Whenever they met a Latin club member they had to sing "Adeste Fidelis" in Latin.

The initiates were Randall Ervin, Eddie Quade, Roger Wiley, Tom Wilkison, Henry Duval, Kendall McDonald, Mickey Stone, Francis Starnes, Linda Adams, Ra-

monna Gardis, Marsha Pierson, Ruth Steinmarch, Susie Seftied, Judy O'Neal, Jane Capel, Janet Tanner, Sandra Kihlmire, Janet Thompson, Elizabeth Klein, and Mary Swartz.

U. S. to Get Part of Balking Hungarians

MELBOURNE — Thirty-four of the 46 Hungarian Olympic team members who refused to go home to Hungary will go to North or South America, a spokesman said today.

The other eight will remain in Australia, according to the Free Hungarian Association in Australia. But for the time being, all 46 are being given tight protection by Australian federal security agents.

Carrier Mills Too Tough for Locals

Cop Saturday Night Affair Here, 82 to 56

Vern Rollins High For Wildcats and For Game, 27 Points

Carrier Mills proved too much for the Bull Dogs in Davenport gym Saturday night and Harrisburg bowed, 82 to 56, to give the Wildcats a perfect season so far with six wins and no losses.

The Carrier Mills lads were deadly shots and Harrisburg could not cope with the rebounding of the big, strong Wildcats. Only during the first quarter did it look like the contest might be a match.

That frame ended with Carrier Mills ahead, 17-14, but at the outset of the second period the Wildcats ran up a quick 25-14 lead and Harrisburg never came close after that. During that second quarter the locals were outscored 26 to 12, and at the intermission Carrier Mills had a comfortable 43-26 plurality. The lead was extended to 60-40 at the end of the third period.

Zeigler Starts

Coach John Dotson started John Zeigler along with Bill Henshaw, Wayne Stone, Ben Fulkerson and Charles Cummins, and Zeigler responded with 17 points, high for the locals. Jim Cummins, Charles Cummins, Bill Yates, Ed Price and Don Beggs also played.

For Carrier Mills, Coach Kayo Willis started Rollins, Rouse, Pitts, Coffield and Cowger and Williams got into the game a couple of times. Rollins, brother of the famed Oliver who will perform with the Globetrotters here Thursday night, gave a sample of what the Rollins boys can do by dumping in 27 points for the evening's scoring honors and doing an excellent rebounding job.

Rollins, however, had plenty of fine support from every one of the other members of the starting five. Lowest number of points scored by any of them was 12.

Locals Lose Preliminary
Carrier Mills took the preliminary game, too, Coach Lawrence Caluffetti's Bull Pups losing to the Carrier Mills freshman-sophomore five, 63 to 55. Carrier Mills led 13-12 at the quarter, 30-25 at the half and 49-41 at the end of the third quarter.

Ron Maynard of Harrisburg, who made 29 points Friday night as the Pups beat Marion, was high again with 24. Taborn was high for Carrier Mills with 18. The scoring:

Harrisburg—Maynard 24, Pickford 2, Wesson 7, Kane 8, Pavlonis 4 and Stone 10. Carrier Mills—Taborn 18, Manier 14, McNew 8, B. Smith 15, Williams 1, Reeder 2 and Nolen 5.

Eldorado Edges Ridgway 61-59 For First Win

Second Loss in 2 Nights for Gallatin County Aggregation

The Eldorado Eagles, after three unsuccessful efforts, broke into the victory column Saturday night at Ridgway by taking a close 61-59 decision.

It marked the second time in two nights that Eldorado was involved in a two-point game, having dropped a 51-49 thriller at Galatia Friday. And it also was Ridgway's second close one in as many evenings, with both decisions going against the Bob Dallas-coached Ridgway Eagles.

Friday night Ridgway was edged out at Rosiclare 53-49. So in two nights of play Ridgway was outpointed by a combined margin of only six points, and suffered two losses.

Ridgway, paced by 6-8 Roger Suttner, led at the end of the first quarter 13-12 and at halftime had extended the advantage to 30-25. Then Eldorado had a fine third frame, holding a 17-10 edge in the period, and went into the lead to stay.

Suttner's 25 points were high for the game and Willis, with 17, topped Eldorado's offense.

Ridgway won the preliminary game 56-47.

Tuesday night Ridgway entertains Galatia in a Greater Egyptian conference game and Eldorado will be at home to Albion.

Big 10 Aid to Athletes Will Be Based on Need

CHICAGO (AP)—A rule requiring virtually all aid to athletes to be issued strictly on basis of need with penalties for students, coaches and institutions not complying was adopted Saturday by the Big Ten.

Prospective students, under the regulation, will be required to submit information on their financial status and will be permitted to receive in aid the sum necessary for college expenses over the financing which he or his family can provide.

A student accepting illegal aid will be ineligible permanently at all conference schools.

A coach or staff member offering illegal aid will be discharged from his job, or his institution must show cause why it should not be suspended or expelled from the conference.

Only exceptions to the rule will be aid won in competitive academic examinations or aid received for scholarship above a "B" average in college.

The Garraway show is presented on WSL-TV each morning from 7 to 9 o'clock.

Unbeaten Argentine Fights Archie McBride

Miteff, 21, is favored at 12-5. Despite his slight professional experience, because he was seasoned in 140 amateur scraps before he turned pro.

Cleveland, Out of Race, Jars Giants

By United Press
The New York Giants who can blame everything on the Cleveland Browns if they falter, and the Detroit Lions much clinch the National Football League's division titles the hard way next week-end—on enemy field.

The Browns will fail to win a division title this season for the first time in their fabulous 11-year history, but they played like champions in the rain and snow at Yankee Stadium Sunday to whip the Giants, 24-7. The defeat cut New York's lead to one game in the Eastern race and the Giants must defeat or tie the Eagles at Philadelphia Saturday to assure themselves of the title.

The Washington Redskins kept alive their hopes of catching the Giants when Sam Baker's 21-yard field goal in the last 25 seconds produced a 19-17 victory over the Eagles.

Detroit remained a half-game ahead of the Chicago Bears in the Western race by thumping the Pittsburgh Steelers, 45-7. The Bears, who play host to the Lions Sunday in their regular season windup, eliminated the Chicago Cardinals from the Eastern race, 10-3, in a game marred by brawls.

The Los Angeles Rams defeated the Baltimore Colts in Sunday's other game, 31-7, while the San Francisco Forty-Niners downed the Green Bay Packers Saturday, 38-20.

The women's crown was won by Mrs. Marion Ladewig, Grand Rapids, Mich., for the sixth time in eight years. She bounced Jere Price, Fort Worth, Tex., down to third place with games of 202 and 199 in the final match.

Carter, the 1953 and 1954 champ, rolled a 253 compared with Weber's 190 in the first game of the last match. Weber needed to win the fourth game by a 33-pin total to take the crown, but could only roll 202 while Carter chalked up a 224.

Upsets Topple 5 of Top Quints In College Play

Still Held to 39 Points in Kansas Win; Illini Trip Okies

By United Press

An early-season wave of upsets that toppled five of the nation's highest-ranked basketball teams left top-rated Kansas and national champion San Francisco untouched today and looking stronger than before.

Louisville (No. 2), Dayton (No. 6), Temple (No. 7), St. Louis (No. 9) and Oregon State (No. 13) all were jolted by surprise defeats on Saturday night and they were joined in mourning by a large number of losing teams unplaced in the national rankings but favorites to win their games.

Kansas, however, kept right on rolling with a 78-61 romp over Marquette, a comeback from 53 in his opening game against Northwestern. Jim McCoy fired 27 points in a futile effort for Marquette.

Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain, Kansas' wonder seven-foot sophomore, was "held" to 39 points by Marquette, a comeback from 53 in his opening game against Northwestern. Jim McCoy fired 27 points in a futile effort for Marquette.

The Big Ten went into its second week of basketball action today with a record of only 14 wins against 11 losses to non-conference opponents.

Only Ohio State, Illinois, Purdue and Indiana escaped without defeat.

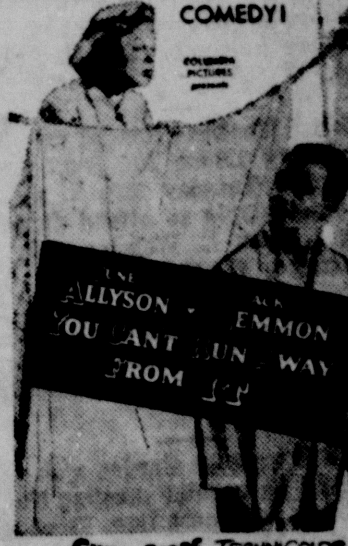

The Buckeyes, strictly a dark-horse candidate in pre-season picks, were rapidly emerging as worthy of championship consideration in view of three straight victories, the most recent a 75-54 upset of St. Louis Saturday night.

Illinois, Indiana and Purdue each knocked off their second non-league rival Saturday night. The Illini defeated Oklahoma, 69-58. Indiana beat Southern Illinois, 80-57, and the Boilermakers topped Missouri, 71-69.

HOLLYWOOD TODAY!

MOVIES - TV - RADIO
by Erskine Johnson

HOLLYWOOD—(NEA)—Behind the Screen: There's some mighty good evidence these days that Hollywood, a little white around the gills from the shock of television maybe, is still alive and kicking. Big, block-busting movies and flickers aimed at teen-agers are doing what Variety calls "Sococo" business from Broadway to Main street. And now it's a major studio, 20th Century-Fox, with a new one-million-dollar-a-year talent-training program designed to find a new crop of young stars.

It's a switch on the old story. "Don't come to Hollywood. There's an oversupply of talent. You don't stand a chance."

Today the situation is completely reversed. Hollywood's begging for talent. "The door of opportunity," says Hollywood, "is wide open to the truly talented."

DEAN MARTIN got the green light from Paramount to do another movie minus Jerry Lewis. The film probably will be "Mr. Lucky," a remake of Cary Grant's old hit. . . . Pat Boone will cash a $75,000 check for "Bernadine," his first film at Fox. . . . Time schedule on the 29th annual Oscar awards: Nominations will be announced Monday night, Feb. 18, with the awards presentations on March 27. . . . Young musical whiz Andre Previn and Peggy King are in the constant-dating league.

That "immoral" label put on "Baby Doll," starring Carroll Baker, when it was banned by Memphis censors, left Producer-Director Elia Kazan beaming. He told a pal, "Those censors just added another million dollars to the box office."

Deadline Dec. 31 for Newly-Separated Servicemen to Apply for GI Insurance

Willard A. Manning, administrator of the Illinois Veterans' Commission, today announced that servicemen being separated from the Armed Forces before December 31, 1956, must make application for their G. I. Insurance on or before that date. This insurance is for five-year term. It is non-convertible and is non-participating.

Prior to the enactment of the Servicemen's and Survivors' Benefit Act (Public Law 881, 84th Congress), the serviceman had 120 days from the date of his separation from service to apply for this post-service insurance policy.

The new law ends the issuance of this insurance effective January 1, 1957 and thereby establishes the deadline December 31, 1956, even though less than 120 days may have lapsed since separation.

Veterans eligible for this insurance are those who were ordered into active service for 31 days or more since June 27, 1950.

Eligible veterans separated from service since September 1, 1956 who wish to apply for the insurance before the deadline date must make sure their applications are accompanied by the proper premiums. No medical examination is required. They must make certain their applications are received by the Veterans Administration

Sharply Questions Love

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—A message that read: "Departed en route with prisoner, Love" was sharply questioned Sunday by Lt. Bill O'Reilly. "Who put 'Love' on the end of this message," O'Reilly asked. "I did, lieutenant," replied a teletype operator. "But it's okay; that's the name of the prisoner."

CONSTIPATED?

New laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks without gag, bloot or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

To regain normal regularity, the dry, shrunken, constipating contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H STIMULATE it to action; to a normal urge to purge. Only a bulk laxative can 1) re-moisten this dry, shrunken waste and 2) supply vital bulk to recreate a normal urge to purge. And, of all bulk laxatives, COLONALIN, the new laxative discovery, relieves even chronic constipation overnight, yet is so smooth, so gentle it has proved safe even for women in critical stages of pregnancy. Superior to old style bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONALIN neither gags, bloats nor grips; won't interfere with absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other reactions. It's a physiological fact: Exercise tones your body! And COLONALIN exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Get COLONALIN, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! Only 98c for the 60 tablet package, brings positive relief at less than 2c per tablet.
